Emtek

Recently there have been some new developments from Emtek. They have expanded their line yet again. The modern line of levers and entrance sets that were once only offered in the cast stainless steel are now being presented in brass as well. These selections include the

Athena Lever on Square Rose

Artemis and Hera Trims for Mortise Entrance sets, and the Apollo and Orion Trims for Tubular Entrance sets. All four options are available in oil rubbed bronze, satin nickel, flat black, and polished chrome.

Along with their entrance sets, Emtek has brought over the Triton, Helios, and Athena levers to brass from stainless steel as well. These three levers are also available in the four finishes of oil rubbed bronze, satin nickel, flat black, and polished chrome. The rosettes offered with the brass levers differ slightly from their stainless steel counter parts. The options include the Modern rosette, Disk rosette, and the Square rosette.

These adjustments have al-
